Total Counties per Species List

(Top eight totals per county - 102 possible counties)

With 440 species recorded in the state, there are over 400 distinct competitions going on in the Total Counties Per Species lists. Although it is a real challenge to see any species in more counties than other Illinois birders, 51 people are listed here with a claim to at least a shared lead for one or more species. The clear leader though is Eric Walters, who is at the top of the leader board for 165 species. The other top birders are Jeff Chapman (91 species), Kevin Richmond (56 species), Steve Bailey and Pete Moxon (both at 30 species). There are many notable records included here, but for just one example check out how many counties in which Vern Kleen has recorded Rufous Hummingbird!

“Multiple observers” means that 10+ birders have reported the same total.
